Petroleum Refueling Industry Profile

Industry Snapshot:

The retail petroleum service industry is a multi-billion dollar industry serving nearly 150,000 service stations in the United States alone with a growing job rate. Right now, there are hundreds of openings across the United States.

What Service Technicians Do:

Petroleum service technicians typically work for service and equipment distribution companies that sell petroleum equipment to the service station/convenience store owner.

Service technicians maintain and repair all refueling equipment for the retail petroleum industry, as well as commercial and municipal refueling facilities, marinas and airports.

This would be a good fit for you if:

Do you like a competitive salary, being home each night, a dynamic ever-changing environment, independent and casual work atmosphere and the ability to use your technical skills to your fullest ability? A career as petroleum service technician may be right for you.
